Dear Customer,

Thank you for choosing Weatherguard Construction Company for your Roofing, Siding, Gutters, and /or Windows. There are a few precautions we would like to let you know about in advance of construction being done on your home.

Above all, we take pride in keeping all job sites clear of hazards, and take every precaution to protect your home and landscaping from damage. However, this isn't always easy. Sometimes plants and landscape lights do get damaged. We apologize for any unforeseen damage and you will be compensated.

We ask that you take a few simple steps to insure no damage:

- Move anything that is not built-in, away from the house.
- Clear deck(s) of any lawn furniture, grills, and plants, etc.
- Remove any hanging plants.
- Remove any valuables or pictures from your walls, as well as any items from shelves or china cabinets. This will prevent any breakage due to vibrations, caused by the nailing, that occur during the application of new shingles, siding, gutters, and /or windows.

Roofing Projects:

- If you store valuables in your attic, you may want to cover or remove them. Sometimes, small pieces of shingle, wood, or nails fall through small gaps in the wood on your roof.
- The same precautions should be taken with any cars and valuables in your garage.

Siding Projects:

- Due to vibrations from nailing, circuit breakers can be tripped. So, if you lose any power don't be alarmed. Check your circuit breaker.
- Most importantly, remove any valuables or pictures from your walls, as well as any items from shelves or china cabinets. This will prevent any breakage due to vibrations, caused by the nailing, that occur during the application of new siding.

By following these simple steps you can keep the disruption to your home and property to a minimum. Please feel free to call (651) 439-4320 if you have any questions or concerns.

Thanks,
